

hell

Hell is a psychic realm that your soul goes to between lives for purification of your negative actions, words and thoughts. It is not to punish you for your sins, but to balance some of your karma. All actions, words and thoughts create karma, good, bad or neutral. When you understand this you are very aware of your negativity. It always comes back to you, as does your positivity. The Catholic dogma of eternal hellfire is incorrect. Eternity is too long for the worst criminal to burn. Usually you are in the realm of hell for about 14 days between lives, more or less depending on your previous karma. Those who preach fear in the name of the God of Love are in big trouble. Their doctrine hurts millions of simple people. Beloved Christians, you are perfect as God wants you now. And your potential is much more. These words are an invitation from God to grow a little more quickly. Soon, His light will cleanse the Earth. Your beliefs will not help you to be purified by the light. For that you need awareness, love and playfulness. Get started.

You have been challenged and provoked by these messages from God because He loves you and wants you to wake up. Long have you lived in dreams and illusion. Long have you been blind to the miracle of this fresh moment of life that is offered again and again for your enjoyment. You are too busy with dreams and plans to live in the wonder of this moment, this gift from God. Honesty, courage and intelligence are the only qualities you need as a seeker of truth. Drop hypocrisy and be who you are. Authenticity is essential for a seeker. Beloved Christians, you have a special place in God's heart. He sent Jesus to sacrifice his young life so that you could connect to God in love. This trust in God's will and a little understanding are all you need to receive the light that transforms the world very soon. Take these messages as your invitation to join the New Dawn of consciousness. You are all most beloved children of God, each soul perfect as God wants you now. Accept the challenge and join the caravan of light. Leave your irrational beliefs and become an inner scientist. And remember God is in your heart already, waiting for you to look deeply enough to find Him.
