

LUCK OF THE DRAW

You are all unique. Your jiva, individual soul, is created with the blueprint for all your lives. It is an intricate, complex, interactive, sophisticated program. There are no soul mates. You are alone. Forget about finding the other. Find yourself. The part you have been given to play is just the luck of the draw. Someone has to be you. Equally, someone has to be Buddha or Hitler. And Buddha was as violent as Hitler, and Hitler will be as free as Buddha. It's just a matter of time. The same for you and everyone. Let this sink in. This understanding stops your mind from its favourite hobby: judging others. There but for the grace of God go I. To judge is to separate. To judge is to hurt yourself. To judge is to strengthen your ego. To see things as they are is the vision of an awakened one. You are programmed to project your negative mind onto everyone. Be aware of it. God, the beyond is your programmer.
